CECO Environmental to Transfer U.S. Stock Exchange Listing to the Texas Stock Exchange

October 2, 2026

Common stock expected to begin trading on TXSE on October 19, 2026, under existing ticker symbol "CECO"

ADDISON, Texas, Oct. 02, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- CECO Environmental Corp. (Nasdaq: CECO) ("CECO"), a leading environmentally focused, diversified industrial company whose solutions protect people, the environment, and industrial equipment, today announced that its Board of Directors has approved the voluntary transfer of the primary listing of the Company's common stock, par value $0.01 per share, from the Nasdaq Global Select Market ("Nasdaq") to the Texas Stock Exchange ("TXSE").

Subject to customary conditions, CECO expects its common stock to cease trading on Nasdaq at the market close on Friday, October 16, 2026, and begin trading on TXSE at the market open on Monday, October 19, 2026. CECO's common stock will continue trading under the ticker symbol CECO and retain its existing CUSIP. The transfer is not expected to affect the Company's operations, financial condition, reporting obligations, or stockholders' rights, and stockholders need not take any action. The transfer reflects CECO's strategic alignment with Texas as a growing center for business, innovation, and capital markets.

Todd Gleason, CECO's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, commented: "CECO has been on a multi-year transformation journey diversifying our portfolio while delivering high-performance financial results and shareholder returns. By becoming the first multi-industrial company to transfer its primary listing to the Texas Stock Exchange, we are aligning with a well-capitalized, leading technology platform that introduces a new era of competitive growth in U.S. capital markets. We appreciate Nasdaq's partnership and support throughout CECO's growth as a public company."

"This move builds upon our strong presence in Texas, which includes our global headquarters in Addison and a large employee base in the state. Texas is currently the most dynamic economic market in the United States, attracting an influx of investment and business growth. Strengthening our alignment with this dynamic growth environment advances CECO's position as a leader in industrial markets," added Gleason.

"A high-growth, global leader like CECO can list anywhere — and today it chose Texas," said TXSE Chairman and CEO James H. Lee. "For six decades, CECO has provided the innovation that has kept American industry clean, safe, and running. Manufacturers make America, and we are proud CECO will become the first industrial company to place its primary listing on the Texas Stock Exchange."
